The Greater Washington Suzuki Institute (GWSI)

Students who study violin, viola, cello or bass by the Suzuki approach, from pre-Twinkle through advanced levels participate in the Institute as a supplement to year-round lessons. They enjoy individual and group instruction, and are motivated to be in the company of other students and families who value and actively pursue musical development.

Teachers attend the Institute to learn the Suzuki Method or to refresh or expand their teaching skills.

Institute Faculty (Partial Listing)

Suzuki Student Institute

Eligibility

Violin, viola* and cello students (including Pre-Twinklers) studying Suzuki repertory and beyond with a Suzuki teacher, bass and viola students studying by other methods are eligible to enroll. String players, advanced and traditionally trained, may also enroll in the Master Classes, Scottish fiddling, quartet classes and orchestra.

*The viola program offers a daily lesson and participation in orchestra(s). Violists are encouraged to apply for quartet.

We welcome bass students training in any method. The bass program offers a daily lesson and participation in orchestra(s). Participation in orchestra only is free.

Programs

The daily schedule for violin and cello students includes an individual lesson in master class style, a repertory class and orchestra. Longer lessons are planned for students who register at or beyond Book 4. Play-ins (just for fun) are held throughout the week mostly during parent lecture time. Non-Suzuki Music Mind Games are for Pre-Twinklers and Twinklers. There are afternoon recitals performed by students and faculty. Also, Thursday evening is devoted to student recitals, providing an additional recital opportunity for every student prepared to perform.

Orchestra

Students will be automatically assigned to orchestras according to advancement. If automatic placement is not appropriate due to an unusual circumstance, please include an explanation with your application. There will be five levels of Orchestras. Please check one: No orchestra, Preparatory Orchestra, or Placement by level on your application.

Electives

- Quartet / small chamber group
- Royal Scottish Fiddling, non-Suzuki for late Book 2 to advanced violinists.
- Foundation course Every Child Can![®] recommended for parents, teachers, prospective teachers and anyone interested. There is no pre-requisite and is not instrument specific. It is a 6-hour introduction to Dr. Suzuki's philosophy and its application to Suzuki education providing an inspiring, in-depth look at the Suzuki approach to teaching and learning. ECC is a pre-requisite for teachers taking Book 1 courses.

Preparation

Students should come prepared to play a polished piece for their first class lesson. The institute teacher can readily assess the students' needs by hearing a technically and musically mature piece. Soloists will be selected during the week by their institute teachers to perform on the afternoon recitals. All students may perform on the Thursday evening recitals. Repertory to be prepared for group repertory class will be sent via email by May.

Parents

Parent participation is expected and is essential to the success of the Suzuki Method. Parents will attend lessons with their children and help them to prepare for the next day's classes. Lectures and panel discussions on topics of interest are prepared for all parents. Effort is made to avoid scheduling simultaneous individual lessons for siblings except for ages 13 and older.
